INSTRUCTION MANUAL

for the Apple® II Home Computer

For example, if you push the joystick UP while pressing button 1, you will activate the 3rd baseman. But if you push the joystick UP while pressing button 2, you will activate the left fielder.

Once a fielder is activated, release the FIRE BUTTON. (In addition to throwing, the fielder can now catch a ball, run in any direction you move the joystick, or run a base runner down.) Only one fielder can be active at a time.

- After you have activated the player who will receive the ball, move the joystick in the direction you want the ball thrown, and press button 1.
- To throw the ball to the pitcher, simply press button 1.
- Once the pitcher has the ball again, the next batter will come to the plate. Runner's cannot steal until after the ball has been pitched.

Outs

There are five ways to make an out:

- Any fielder who has the ball can throw it to the base the runner is headed for. An infielder can also carry the ball to a base to force a runner out. To move an infielder with the ball to his base, move the joystick in the direction of that base.
- Any active fielder with the ball can tag the runner out. The fielder can then throw the ball to another base, to make a double play, or return it to the pitcher.
- Any active fielder with the ball can tag first base before the runner arrives.
- An activated fielder can catch a fly ball.
- The batter can strike out (if you pitch 'em right).

Hitting

To make the batter hit the ball, press the SPACE BAR. If the ball is in the strike zone, the type of hit will be determined by that player's actual batting statistics.

The contact position of the bat and ball determines where the ball will go. For instance, if the ball is hit early, it will go toward left field. If the ball is hit late, it will go toward right field.

Bunting

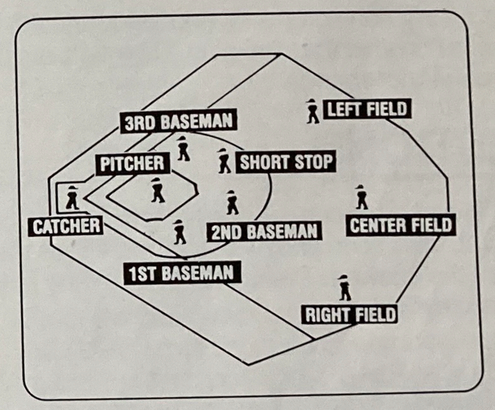
To bunt, press the B key on the keyboard while the ball is in the strike zone. The contact position of the ball and bat determines where the bunted ball will land.

Home Run

When a batter hits a home run, the play is played out automatically. Your own hitting skill, along with the player's statistics, will determine home runs.

Stealing

To make the base runner steal a base, press the S key on the keyboard after the ball is pitched. All the base runners will run if you steal a base. Of course, the defensive team can throw out runners who attempt to steal.



THE STATISTICAL GAME

In the Statistical Game, you only manage your team – you don't control the moves of individual players. The computer manages the Visiting Team. You play the Statistical Game from the keyboard.

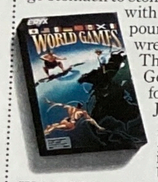
WORLD GAMES™

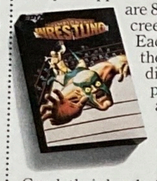
The sequel to our outrageously popular "Games" series is a challenge of global proportions. You'll compete in 8 impossible events around the world. First, it's off to Mexico, for death-defying Cliff Diving. Then Japan, where you'll go stomach to stomach with a 400-pound Sumo wrestler. Then on to Germany for Barrel Jumping. Bull Riding in the U.S. Weightlifting in Russia. And then France, to ski the Slalom. The question is, are you really ready to go the distance?



One to eight players. Amiga, Apple II & compatibles, Atari ST, C64/128, IBM & compatibles.

CHAMPIONSHIP WRESTLING™

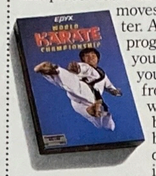
It's the Sultans of Slam. The Gurus of Gashes. The meanest, nastiest rowdies to ever hit the canvas. These animals use every trick known to man. And a few that aren't. Become your favorite fighter. Then use over 25 moves to take out your opponent. There are 8 of these creeps in all. Each with their own disgusting personalities. Throw them from the ring. Crush their heads. Slam them to the mat. Pulverize their puny bones. And maybe, if you still have a face, you'll earn the Championship Belt.



One to eight players. Apple II & compatibles, Atari ST, C64/128.

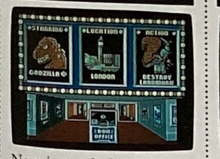
WORLD KARATE CHAMPIONSHIP™

You smirk. Your opponent winces. You bow. So does he. The battle begins. A combination front punch and kick. You spin, then do a reverse kick. A forward flip. You kick again, only higher. It connects. Lights out. This time, you're in one piece. You'll have 17 moves to master. As you progress, you'll fight your way from white to black belt in 8 deadly, international settings. Someday, your fingers will be registered as lethal weapons.



One or two players. Apple II & compatibles, Atari 130/800, C64/128, IBM & compatibles.

THE MOVIE MONSTER GAME™

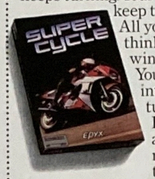


Now, instead of running from monsters, you are the monster. Play the role of Godzilla© or any of five other unsavory creatures. Then pick the unlucky city, from Tokyo to New York, and go to town. Wreak havoc. Trample a landmark. Eat a tank. Conduct a daring rescue. Or scorch the Golden Gate with your breath. But you'll have to defeat the Army, Navy, Air Force, even a nuke or two to do it. Get The Movie Monster Game, and do Moscow for lunch.

One player. Apple II & compatibles, C64/128, IBM & compatibles.

SUPER CYCLE™

You can barely hold on. At 180 mph, the torque is excruciating. It feels like the wind is pulling your face right off your head. The scream of the other bikes is deafening. No, terrifying. But you can't stop. Not now. The throttle keeps turning. Your nerves keep twisting. All you can think of is winning. You bank into a turn. Bump another rider off the road. And swerve to avoid an ugly crash and burn. Super Cycle. If it were any more realistic, you'd need insurance to ride it.



One player. Atari ST, C64/128.

WINTER GAMES™

If you own an IBM, Atari ST or Amiga, this is your lucky brochure. We've just released new versions of this smash hit especially for you. Experience the icy challenge of seven true-to-life winter events. Try careening the tube in your Bobsled. Defy gravity in the Ski Jump. Or choreograph a complete figure skating routine. Then fly through hot dog aerials. Or test your stamina in the Biathlon. The action is downright chilling.

One to eight players. Amiga, Apple II & compatibles, Atari ST, C64/128, IBM & compatibles, Macintosh.

DESTROYER™

You're the Captain of a fully armed, Fletcher Class U.S. Naval Destroyer, somewhere in the Pacific. Sometime in World War II. You could have played it safe and let the autopilot take the helm. Instead, you'll be in command of every single station: Anti-aircraft guns. Torpedoes. Radar. Navigation. And six other hellish outposts on deck. Remember, you are the eyes and ears of the fleet. The advance guard of the strong. The protector of the weak. And now, the mission is up to you. Could be a seek and kill sub hunt. A bold convoy escort. Maybe you'll respond to that desperate rescue signal beacon that's growing fainter by the hour. Or maybe you'll help the marines invade a strategic island. Of course, you'll have to shell the enemy's land-based gun emplacements first. Whatever you decide, you know it'll be a nightmare. As you ponder the staggering realism of this simulation, you suddenly hear the low, unmistakable hum of incoming bombers. And that sinking feeling strikes one more time.

One player. Apple II & compatibles, C64/128, IBM & compatibles.

GRAPHICS SCRAPBOOK™

We're pleased to present the greatest collection of art this side of The Smithsonian. Of course, unlike those guys, we'll let you take our pictures and use them at home. It's a multi-volume set of terrific images for owners of Print Shop. Everything from off-the-wall drawings to in-the-water surfers. There'll be volumes on sports, comedy, summer stuff, holiday and seasonal graphics, autos and trucks, even cartoons. Hundreds upon hundreds of useful, weird, crisp and clever clippings. Why, it's never been easier to take pictures. Available this fall.

For owners of Print Shop. Apple II & compatibles, C64/128, IBM & compatibles.
